Insider Trading Policy

26 May 2023

Introduction

This document details POTL's policy on, and rules for dealing in the Company's shares.

The requirements imposed by the policy are separate from, and in addition to, the legal prohibitions on insider trading in New Zealand.

If you do not understand any part of this policy, or how it applies to you, you should raise the matter with the Chief Financial Officer before dealing with any securities covered by this policy.

Fundamental Rule – Insider Trading is Prohibited at All Times

An “insider” includes every person who by reason of being a director, employee or contractor of POTL, holds inside information.

If you possess “Material Information” (refer to definition below), then whether or not you are a Restricted Person below, you must not:

- trade Restricted Securities.
- advise or encourage others to trade, or hold any Restricted Securities; or
- pass on the Material Information to others.

The prohibitions apply regardless of how you learn of the information, and regardless of why you are trading.

The prohibition on insider trading applies not only to information concerning POTL's securities. If a person has Material Information in relation to listed securities of another issuer over listed securities, that person must not trade in those securities.

Scope

This policy applies to all Directors, officers, employees, and contractors of Port of Tauranga Limited (POTL) who intend to trade in POTL's listed securities. In this policy “trade” includes buying or selling listed securities, or agreeing to do so, whether as principal or agent.

In addition to this Policy and Guidelines, furthermore specific and stringent rules also apply to trading in POTL's securities, by Directors and certain employees.

Insider Trading Laws

If you have any Material Information, it is illegal for you to:

- trade POTL's listed securities.
- advise or encourage another person to trade or hold POTL's listed securities.
- advise or encourage a person to advise or encourage another person to trade or hold POTL's listed securities; or
- pass on the Material Information to anyone else – including colleagues, family, or friends – knowing (or where you ought to have known) that the other person will use that information to trade, continue to hold, or advise or encourage someone else to trade, or hold, POTL's listed securities.

This offence, called “insider trading”, can subject you to criminal liability including large fines and/or imprisonment, and civil liability, which may include being sued by another party or POTL, for any loss suffered as a result of illegal trading.

Confidential Information

In addition to the above, you also have a duty of confidentiality to POTL. You must not reveal any confidential information concerning POTL to a third party (unless that third party has signed a confidentiality agreement with POTL and you have been authorised to disclose the confidential information), or to use confidential information in any way which may injure or cause loss to POTL or use confidential information to gain an advantage for yourself. You should ensure that external advisers keep POTL information confidential.

What is “Material Information”?

“Material Information” is information that:

- is not generally available to the market; and
- if it were generally available to the market, could have a material effect on the price of POTL's listed securities.

Information is generally available to the market if it has been released as an NZX announcement, or investors that commonly invest in POTL's listed securities can readily obtain the information (whether by observation, use of expertise, purchase, or other means).

It does not matter how you come to know the Material Information (including whether you learn it while carrying out your responsibilities, or in passing in the corridor, or in a lift, or at a social function).

What Are Some Examples of Material Information?

The following list is illustrative only. Material Information could include information concerning:

- the financial performance of POTL;
- a possible change in the strategic direction of the POTL;
- the introduction or loss of a major customer;
- a possible acquisition or sale of any assets or company by POTL;
- senior management changes;
- a material legal claim by or against the POTL;
- any other unexpected liability; or
- awareness that a takeover notice or scheme of arrangement proposal is imminent. which has not been released to the market.

Short Term Trading Discouraged

You should not engage in short term trading (the buying or selling of listed securities within a six-month period), unless there are exceptional circumstances discussed with and approved by the Chief Financial Officer.

Short term trading can be a key indicator of insider trading, particularly if undertaken on a regular basis or in large amounts. Therefore, to reduce the risk of an allegation of insider trading, do not trade listed securities on a short-term basis.

If in Doubt, Don't

The rules contained in this policy do not replace your legal obligations. The boundary between what is (and is not) in breach of the law is not always clear. Sometimes behaviour that you consider to be ethical actually may be insider trading. If in doubt, don't!

Breaches of Policy

Strict compliance with this policy is a condition of employment. Breaches of this policy will be subject to disciplinary action, which may include termination of employment.

Monitoring of Trading

POTL may monitor the trading of Directors and employees as part of the administration of this policy.

Application of Policy

The Board of POTL has approved this policy. The Board may approve updates, amendments, and exemptions to this policy from time to time, by written notice to you.

To the extent of any inconsistency with any previous policy or rules relating to this subject matter, this policy prevails over them.
